Massachusetts	QRIS: Massachusetts QRIS <ul style="list-style-type: none"> o The Massachusetts QRIS Standards were developed for all programs and educators serving children and youth across the Commonwealth's mixed delivery system. The Massachusetts' Licensing Regulations serve as a solid foundation, for a set of well-developed QRIS Standards, that are based on child development, early education and after school program quality research. To address the unique characteristics of quality found in different types of programs, the QRIS Standards have been customized for Center Based / School Based programs, Family Child Care, and After School Programs / Out of School Time programs. o The QRIS Standards are presently expressed in terms of Levels, which correspond to a QRIS rating. The levels are organized in a series of blocks that outline the indicators for quality within each category. Thus, programs must demonstrate that they can meet all of the criteria in all of the categories in Level 1 to obtain a Level 1 rating, before they can qualify for Level 2 rating, and so on up the levels. Currently there are four QRIS levels, EEC plans to develop a fifth level that links high quality education and care with positive developmental and educational outcomes for children and youth. Sources: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> o http://www.mass.gov/edu/birth-grade-12/early-education-and-care/gris/massachusetts-gris-standards.html o http://www.mass.gov/edu/government/departments-and-boards/departments-of-early-education-and-care/

Wisconsin	QRIS: YoungStar <ul style="list-style-type: none"> o YoungStar is Wisconsin’s five-star quality improvement and rating system (QRIS) for childcare providers. The rating system is based on four categories: education levels of providers, children’s learning environment, providers’ business practices, and the health and well-being of children. We give parents the tools and information they need to raise happy, healthy kids. And, we help preschools, home-based programs, learning centers, and other child care providers give children safe, nurturing places to grow. <ul style="list-style-type: none"> o How do we do it? <ul style="list-style-type: none"> ▪ By objectively measuring child care quality. We rate thousands of child care providers, awarding up to five stars for the best quality of care.

- By giving parents an easy way to compare their local child care options and find the programs that match their family's lifestyle, budget, and special needs.
- By supporting providers with tools and training to deliver high-quality care
- By setting a consistent standard for child care quality
- o Of course, the most important incentive for participation in YoungStar is the opportunity to improve program quality and thus improve the outcomes for the children enrolled in your program. Other benefits available to programs participating in YoungStar are:
 - o On-site training and technical assistance, upon request
 - o Local training opportunities
 - o Micro-grants to support the goals outlined in programs' Quality Improvement Plans
 - o Professional development counseling and supports for credit- and noncredit-based growth opportunities, through Wisconsin Early Childhood Association (WECA) Professional Development Consultants and YoungStar Technical Consultants.
- o YoungStar accepts the National Early Childhood Program Accreditation (NECPA) as equivalent to a 4 Star or 5 Star rating under the following conditions:
 - o If a program is accredited by NECPA and the program meets the educational requirements of a 4 Star program in their respective YoungStar rating track, that program would be eligible for a 4 Star rating.
 - o If a program is accredited by NECPA and the program meets the educational requirements of a 5 Star program in their respective YoungStar rating track, that program would be eligible for a 5 Star rating.
 - o When a program becomes accredited or extends/renews their accreditation by NECPA, it is the responsibility of the program to send their certificate of accreditation/re-accreditation to the Department of Children and Families via fax: 608-224-6178 or via email to: youngstar@wisconsin.gov

Wyoming

WY Quality Counts

- o WY Quality Counts helps Wyoming parents and child care providers identify and create quality learning experiences today, which helps ensure a bright, innovative and viable workforce for the future.
- o WY Quality Counts' mission is to raise awareness about why quality child care matters for Wyoming's children, their families and our future. The program promotes quality education opportunities, preparing children for success by using developmentally-appropriate teaching methods and materials to develop cognitive, language, social/emotional and motor skills. WY Quality Counts also provides funding for professionals in early childhood education.
 - o Education, training and professional development are critical for a child care provider to be the best they can be. That's why we offer funding in the form of scholarships and grants. As a 100% state-funded program, WY Quality Counts' resources are subject to availability of funds. All scholarship and grant applications are due to the Department of Workforce Services between 45 and 110 days prior to the start of your training, degree or certificate program.

	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> o By making life easier for child care providers, WY Quality Counts can help you feel empowered, energized and more free to do what you love: lead, teach and nurture the kids of Wyoming. o QRIS currently not in place Sources: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> o http://www.wyqualitycounts.org/providers/scholarships-and-grants/ o http://www.wyqualitycounts.org/providers/align-training/ o http://www.wyqualitycounts.org/providers/ o http://www.wyqualitycounts.org/providers/early-learning-guidelines-and-foundations/ o http://www.wyqualitycounts.org/
District of Columbia	QRIS: Capital Quality <ul style="list-style-type: none"> o The Office of the State Superintendent of Education’s (OSSE) Division of Early Learning (DEL) recently launched Capital Quality, the District of Columbia’s enhanced Quality Rating and Improvement System (QRIS). Capital Quality replaces Going for the Gold, the District’s original QRIS, with a system that measures program quality and focuses on continuous quality improvement. o OSSE recognized the need to modify to the original QRIS due to changes in the District’s education sector and an increased need for a common measure of quality across all three sectors (public charter schools, DC Public Schools, and community-based organizations). Most importantly, Capital Quality will be public-facing, which will allow parents to review and compare the program quality of various child development providers throughout the District, and make informed decisions when deciding where to enroll their child. o While accreditation will not be a part of the Capital Quality rating, a program’s accreditation status will be included on the program’s Capital Quality profile and available for families to see when choosing a child care facility that best meets their child’s needs. o Will there be funding available for materials needed for achieving goals towards quality? <ul style="list-style-type: none"> o In the fiscal year 2018 (beginning Oct. 1, 2017), OSSE will provide incentives and supports to programs participating in Capital Quality in increasing quality through the purchase of materials and supplies. More information about available supports to programs in the form of technical assistance, coaching, mentoring, and professional development will be forthcoming in the coming months. Sources: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> o https://osse.dc.gov/page/capital-quality-qris o https://osse.dc.gov/node/1242691 o https://osse.dc.gov/sites/default/files/dc/sites/osse/page_content/attachments/Capital%20Quality%20FAQ_0.pdf o https://osse.dc.gov/service/early-learning-funding-opportunities
Department of Defense	Child Care Aware of America <ul style="list-style-type: none"> o Child Care Aware® of America operates a Fee Assistance Program that serves military and non-military families. o National Early Childhood Program Accreditation (NECPA) is recognized by the DoD for either on-base child care or for the DoD’s Off-Base Child Care Military Fee Assistance Program o National accreditation is an additional criteria used to determine the quality of a child care program. Family child care homes and child care centers may pursue accreditation in order to increase the quality of their care. Accredited providers must meet higher standards than those set forth by licensing. These programs offer the kind of care, attention, and educational activities parents look for in quality child care programs, in addition to offering activities and experiences that will aid in a child’s growth and development and that will help prepare them for school.

- o In order for child care centers to meet MCCYN requirements, they must meet OMCC criteria AND be accredited by one of the approved national accreditation agencies listed below:
 - o National Association for the Education of Young Children (NAEYC)
 - o National Accreditation Commission (NAC)
 - o National Early Childhood Program Accreditation (NECPA)
 - o Council on Accreditation (COA)
 - o AdvancED Accreditation
